20th March 2020,

Dear Parents and Carers

KEYWORKERS with no alternative childcare from Monday 23 March

From Monday 23 March, schools in England will only stay open for children whose parents count as key workers and children who are vulnerable. We will be contacting separately families of students who have EHCPs and those who fall into the vulnerable student categories.

Parents and carers whose work is critical to the COVID-19 response include those who work in health and social care and in other key sectors outlined below. Most parents and carers working in these sectors will be able to ensure their child is kept at home. Every child who can be safely cared for at home should be. Schools will be operating with skeleton staffing levels only in order to provide childcare.

Please, therefore, follow these key principles:

1. If it is at all possible for children to be at home, then they should be.
2. If a child needs specialist support, is vulnerable or has a parent who is a critical worker, then educational provision will be available for them.
3. Parents should not rely for childcare upon those who are advised to be in the stringent social distancing category such as grandparents, friends, or family members with underlying conditions.
4. Parents should also do everything they can to ensure children are not mixing socially in a way which can continue to spread the virus. They should observe the same social distancing principles as adults.

If your work is critical to the COVID-19 response, or you work in one of the critical sectors listed below, and you cannot keep your child safe at home then your children will be prioritised for education provision:

- Health and social care
- Education and childcare
- Key public services
- Local and national government
- Food and other necessary goods
- Public safety and national security
- Transport
- Utilities, communication and financial services

If workers think they fall within the critical categories above they should confirm with their employer that, based on their business continuity arrangements, their specific role is necessary for the continuation of this essential public service. A more detailed list of jobs in these sectors is included at the end of this letter or from the government guidance.

We are only able to offer key worker children places according to the criteria above. Additionally, we can only offer this provision if we have adequate staffing levels to ensure the safety of the children. If the key worker definition changes, we will let you know.

We need to establish how many children of key workers require this provision and when. To keep risk to our staff to a minimum, please only request a place for your child(ren) if there is not a suitable adult to care for them at home, and only for the days you work.

Please complete this form if you are a keyworker with no alternative childcare provision by 3.30 pm Friday 20 March.

Once we have collected this information, we will be able to outline details of the provision to those parents and carers who are eligible.

Yours faithfully
