The issue

- Edibles take between 1-3 hours to have an effect because food is absorbed into the bloodstream through the liver.
- Because it takes longer, the user may end up consuming larger amounts of the drug while thinking the drug isn't working.
- Overdosing with Edibles can be a greater risk because of this.
- Hospitalisation due to overdosing on Edibles is the reality of consuming these sweets.
- THC is the main psychoactive compound in cannabis that produces the high sensation.
- It can be consumed by smoking cannabis.
- It's also available in oils, edibles, dropper bottles, capsules, and more.
- THC is illegal in any form/ quantity
- THC is what we most commonly see in Edibles, these manufactures of the THC edibles are unregulated and cannot accurately account for how much THC is in each sweet.

Kooth is a free, safe and anonymous space for young people to receive counselling and mental health support. Kooth is commissioned across the majority of England and Wales for young people to access mental health and wellbeing support. Users can speak to a counsellor online, weekdays 12pm to 10pm and on weekends 6pm to 10pm, 365 days a year. On the site, young people can track how they are feeling with a daily journal, speak to a counsellor with no referral, or engage with our online mental health community through a variety of tools.

To access free mental health support visit www.Kooth.com.

E-SCOOTERS AND THE LAW

E-SCOOTERS AND THE LAW

What is the law on e-scooters?

Currently in the UK, you can legally buy an e-scooter, but you cannot ride it on a public road, cycle lane or pavement. The only place it can be used is on private land.

The reason for this is that e-scooters are treated as motor vehicles by the Department of Transport and are subject to the same legal requirement as other vehicles, such as MOT, licencing, tax and insurance. Because they don't always have number plates, signalling ability or visible rear lights, they cannot be used legally on the roads.

What happens if I am stopped by the police?

The police will advise you on the law and may ask you to take your e-scooter home. They may, however, still penalise you depending on the seriousness of the offence. If caught riding an e-scooter, fines you may receive can include:

- a Fixed Penalty Notice for no insurance, with a £300 fine and six penalty points
- a Fixed Penalty Notice for no driving licence, up to £100 fine and three-six penalty points

Other offences which may result in penalties include riding on the footpath, using a mobile phone, riding through red lights and drink driving offences.

Police Constable Degree Apprenticeship

Do the job that prepares and empowers you to take on the unique challenges of policing London.

- You'll begin your three year programme at one of four universities; Brunel University, the University of West London, Anglia Ruskin University and the University of East London.
- You'll be a paid officer from day one of training, working alongside experienced officers in an operational role practically applying your learning throughout.
- You'll gain skills and knowledge in areas such as public protection, safeguarding, crime investigation, community policing, problem solving as well as officer safety.
- You'll complete a research project in your chosen specialist area focused on a real practical policing problem.
- All while working towards a fully-funded BSc (Hons) degree in Professional Policing Practice.

Do the job that comes with great rewards.

Earn whilst you learn. You'll start with a salary package of circa £30,000 (including allowances). Your salary increases annually in line with your length of service and you can expect to earn up to £47,000 (including allowances).

Joining the Met as a new Police Constable is just the beginning of your journey. Whatever your interests, there are so many opportunities to specialise in countless areas of policing and develop your career.

To be eligible to join this programme you will need:

- GCSE grade C, or 4 or above, in English and Maths (or equivalent level 2 qualifications). If you don't already hold a level 2 qualification in maths we'll support you to achieve this.

Plus any one of the following:

- 64 UCAS points (search UCAS tariff calculator).
- An academic or vocational qualification gained outside England and Wales equivalent to 64 UCAS points.
- Training or work experience equivalent to 64 UCAS points.

For more information on our entry routes, including our Degree Holder Entry Programme, and to apply visit met.police.uk/NewPCs.
