

Lying Man

He prays to his lord but not to be forgiven
Towards evil intentions his heart has been driven
He has no hesitation on what he believes is right
On defenceless families he forces a fight

He calls himself a Muslim but is drenched in blood
If the tears he'd caused were with him he would be drowning in a
Flood
He uses our religion as an escape to get away
But some people are fooled by the lying words he says

He manipulates minds to believe his actions are just
He turns us against each other breaking our trust
But he is the enemy that we need to fight
We need to open our eyes to the true sight

He steals numerous lives without a second glance
We take the blame, just give us a chance
Why should others face the punishment he deserves?
We are outsiders, while he gleefully observes

He stabs his knife in the innocent whilst crying God's name
But why call yourself a Muslim when murder is your game?
Muslims aren't murderers, we don't have blood on our Hands
So a terrorist calling himself a Muslim is just a lying man.
